Each year, the Einaudi Center for International Studies at Cornell University hosts a photo competition for graduate students who recently traveled abroad for their research. There were many great submissions, and Vicky's photo of children threshing sorghum in Singida, Tanzania won second place. The photo was taken last year while Vicky was working with Tanzanian smallholder farmers during her Borlaug Fellowship as part of SNAP.

Congrats, Vicky!
